Contract/Purchase Agreement

-Both Seller and Buyer agree this puppy/dog is in good health, at date and signing of this Contract. At signing of this contract the seller is no longer responsible for the health of puppy/dog or any veterinarian bills. Buyer has read all the information on my website and agrees, especially the Contract and Health Agreement section. Seller will not refund any deposits, payments, or vet bills. Buyer has 72 hours in which /he/she is urged to have the puppy/dog examined by a licensed veterinarian. If the veterinarian finds a life threatening genetic defect (such as a level 4 heart murmur or higher) it can be exchanged for similar puppy/dog when one is available. Parvovirus is not a life threatening genetic defect and is excluded. Even if puppy is vaccinated a puppy can still contract the Parvovirus. Puppy/dog may be a different age, gender, or color but equal value. Buyer must notify the seller during the 72 hour period and provide a letter from the veterinarian; explaining the life threatening genetic defect. Any replacement puppy/dog must be exchanged within the 72 hours. Buyers are responsible for any price difference in puppy/dog. Buyer is responsible for transporting the puppy/dog. Pinched or Collapsed Nostrils, Cherry Eyes, Over heating or Heatstroke, are just a few of the issues not covered in this agreement. These are common health issues with the French Bulldog breed. Buyer has read all of them on the website. This puppy/dog is not guaranteed to be breeding or show Quality.
